

HOLY BAPTISM OR CHRISTENING

INFORMATION FOR PARENTS and GODPARENTS

When baptised, a person becomes a member of the Church, he or she becomes part of the family of God and finds there is a sense of belonging, belonging to a community of Christians which is worldwide and all embracing and in which everyone is welcome and can find a home.

The Church is not just a special building in your town or village but a community of people who are united together to serve our Lord Jesus Christ. They offer a close and supportive community in which your children or godchildren can grow up as part of Christ's living body.

Baptism is a beginning not an end. It marks the start of the Christian life. Newly-born babies need love, care and attention as they grow up. A newly-baptised person also needs nurture to grow into a mature Christian. This is why the role of parents and godparents is so important.

In the baptism service parents and godparents promise that the child will be brought up as a Christian to know and experience a living faith.

In the service parents and godparents make vows on behalf of the child, who later renews them at confirmation.

The vows are:

- to turn away from evil
- to believe and trust in God
- to live in obedience to God's will

They also agree:

- to take part in Christian worship with the child
- to teach Christian faith and practice to the child
- to make sure the child is encouraged to be confirmed
- to pray regularly for the child

And so a partnership is formed between God's family and your family.

GODPARENTS

How many Godparents are needed?

At least two, one Godfather and one Godmother.

Who can be a Godparent?

The Church requires that Godparents must be baptised Christians and it is desirable that they should be regular communicants of the Church in Wales or a Church in Communion with it.

When choosing Godparents it is important that they should be people who will carry out their duties responsibly.
